

Monday, March 2—Deuteronomy 8-10

What practical understanding and instruction are we given in Deuteronomy 8:11-20, particularly as it relates to how we should understand the things that we possess and how it is that we make provision for ourselves? What implications does this have for how we should understand ourselves?

Tuesday, March 3—Deuteronomy 11-13

What was the essence of Israel's law-keeping? Of what was their obedience to the Lord a demonstration of? What were they commanded to do (Deut.11:22)? In view of this—was their obedience a matter of outward conformity or heart devotion (cp. Deut.10:16)?

Tuesday, March 4—Deuteronomy 14-17

What were the grounds of Israel's generosity; on what basis, according to what reality was Israel to give of their store to the needy (Deut.15:14-15)?

Wednesday, March 5—Deuteronomy 18-20

What were the grounds of Israel's confidence as they went into battle against the nations that inhabited the land (Deut.20:1, 4)? What was the significance of the fact that God was with them? What New Testament truth corresponds with this (see Matthew 28:20)

Thursday, March 6—Deuteronomy 21-23

What responsibilities did God's people have to one another (see 22:1-3)? What aspects of God's requirements upon them does this represent? Do these requirements still apply to us? What are the implications of this with respect to our relationships with those around us?

Friday, March 7—Deuteronomy 24-26

What is the issue in view in Deut.25:11-16? What is God's requirement? What is the basis of God's requirement?

Saturday, March 8—Deuteronomy 27, 28

What does Deut.28:47 indicate was to be the attitude of heart with which the people of Israel were to serve God? From what did this attitude arise? What does this indicate regarding the true source of these attitudes—where such attitudes of heart are found?

Sunday, March 9—Deuteronomy 29-31

What do we learn of God's steadfast love and covenant loyalty from Deut.30:1-10?
